

Mission Statement

“Alan Hutchings Installation is committed to providing affordable high quality custom installations, designed specifically for our clients.”

We understand that every client has his or her own specific needs. Our company uses its knowledge to guide our clients in their decision making process. This ensures that the systems we install for our clients perform in a way that suits their needs.

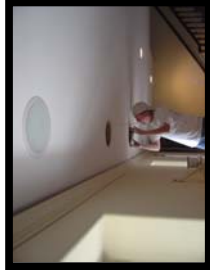

Our company motto is, “Installations that disappear.” Our goal is to provide a comfortable and fun experience, when it comes to sharing the joy of home entertainment with our clients. We do this by providing installations with minimal aesthetic impact while maintaining superior performance.

Description of Services

Concealment: Alan Hutchings Installation specializes in concealment of home audio, video and data/voice installations. At every project our team puts great effort into following our motto; “Installations that Disappear.”

Our company conceals wires and uses custom equipment to integrate our installations into our client’s home décor.

Symmetry and balance: Symmetry and balance are essential parts in the placement of all equipment. Our company strives to provide the highest quality, lowest impact and simple to operate systems possible.

Simplicity: We customize our systems using state of the art technology so that our clients can operate our systems at the touch of a single button.

Products: As well as providing installation services, AHI has an extensive selection of products, ranging from Panasonic Electronics to Sonance. We provide an all-inclusive service that takes care of all your audio, video and data/voice needs.

Company Background

Alan Hutchings Installation (AHI) was founded in September of 2002. AHI has installed numerous home theater systems, multi-room audio systems and computer networks throughout the greater bay area. During this time the company worked in a variety of homes ranging from new construction to retrofitting existing homes. All of our work is guaranteed and we are licensed, bonded and insured.

Through working on various projects the company has created an extensive network of contacts, which serve to be mutually beneficial. Interior Designers, General Contractors, Carpenters and Architects have been great referrals as well as aides in completing some of the company’s projects. Keeping solid relationships as well as actively seeking new contacts has helped drive the company to become what it is today.

Client Testimonials

- “Alan has done several projects for us and we have been extremely satisfied with his work. He is knowledgeable, forward thinking and professional. He meets his budget and stays on schedule. We’ve also been impressed by how clean he keeps his jobsite. From the planning phase through installation, his customer service is outstanding.”
- Jon & Colleen
- “Alan Hutchings has installed two systems for me... The wires were routed behind walls, under floor, through ceilings... I’ve been very pleased having music or TV sound available throughout the house, and with beautiful TV picture and theater sound. Having a single programmed remote greatly simplifies... even my wife can manage.”
- Stan & Kiyomi
