Custom Machine Embroidery

The Thread Line

Fall is on the Way!

There definitely is that autumn nippiness in the air in the mornings and the evenings. The Halloween Candy is on the store shelves. Kids are back to school (suddenly there is more traffic in the mornings). Football is back on television. And time to clear out some inventory.

I have sale prices on many of the items I have in stock. These prices are only available for the items that I have in stock, so once they are gone that's it. Well, some of them I can re-order at the regular price if you really want them.

This is what I have available in shirts:
