Chatham Library Summer Reading Club— Books, Games, and MORE!

The August 19 Kiwanis Picnic was a Club finale and a reward for ambitious young readers (Pre-K to 6). Of the 594 Club members, 253 had read and reported on at least 40 books. They earned an invitation to the outdoor party. One young reader actually finished 112 books!

Picnic Chm Tom Mullin & some of the 20 volunteers

Older students (Middle and High School) volunteered to listen to the young reader's reports, and discuss the books with them. Among the 121 volunteers was Chris Maturri of Chatham, who listened to and encouraged the Book Clubbers, but also ran the Chess Club, and taught that game to many of the young readers. As the playing of chess has been credited with fostering improved scholarship, the impact of the Reading Club and Chris's contribution should extend well beyond the summer.

Diane O'Brien, Chris & Barbara Maturri

Laura Weinbrom (in white) and parade completed over 8000 books. Refreshments were provided by our Club, and entertainment, with a "beach" theme, was provided by the Chatham Women's Club. After eating their hot dogs, snacks, and ice cream, the Reading Club winners danced, laughed and played with their colorful beach ball balloons.

Children's Librarian Laura Weinbrom said that the Summer Reading Club members together

The Share A child Movement.

Evageline Lee

Kiwanian Evageline Lee spoke at our June 29 breakfast about our project to help children in the poorer rural areas of the Philippines, her home country. The Share A Child Movement, based in Cebu City, supervises our donations and the children they help. The goal is to "empower young people to be productive citizens of the world" through access to education and programs to encourage families to become self-reliant. We have learned from Executive Director Nina Valenzona that two young girls have been selected, ages 11 and 14. We can expect to receive information about them and their families, plus reports on their progress throughout the year.

Key Clubs Support Kiwanis in 5-Year ELIMINATE Program

Jiayun Fong, new Lt. Gov of our local Key Club Division 14, was welcomed to our meeting on Aug. 17. She told of her participation in the July Key Club International Convention in Memphis, and how impressed she was with the commitment to youth of this Kiwanis-family organization. She told us of the new World Service Project called ELIMINATE. Like its predecessor, the IDD Project, it is a collaboration between Kiwanis International and UNICEF,

Jiayun Fong

This time the targeted disease is MNT (Maternal and Neonatal Tetanus), a killer of 160 children and 80 mothers per day. It causes convulsions and extreme pain, but can be prevented by three injections of a 60 cent vaccine. Jiayun was happy to advise us of the support of Key Club International for the new Kiwanis-UNICEF partnership. The Kiwanis goal, with the support of its "family" of sponsored clubs, is to raise 110 million dollars by 2015, to supply the vaccines and other equipment needed by UNICEF to fight MNT in at least 40 countries around the world.

THE ENTHUSIASM OF OUR SPONSORED YOUTH – A NEW ERA

Key Club and Circle K Officers Attend District Conventions and Visit Our Club Meetings in a Revival of Earlier Traditions.

While our Sponsored Youth Clubs have been very helpful to our fish'n'chip and pasta dinners, in recent years their trips to conventions and visits to our club have been rare. As a result, their activities this spring have been gratifying to us. Starting March 26, Circle K officers from the Drew club took part in their District Convention (D-CON) in Somerset.

The two-day Key Club District Convention, starting April 16 in King of Prussia (PA), was attended by officers and advisors from the Chatham High School Key Club... Earlier, the ECLC

Key Club sent two club officers, along with their new advisor, Samantha Zelevansky and Assistant Principal Susan Tillis, to our April 6 meeting. They were animated in telling us about the fundraisers for Haiti relief, Mt. Pleasant Animal Shelter, and Special Olympics. The following

Circle K visitors– Advisor Amy Koritz and Officers Gabrielle Kostiuik, Daniel Gregor, Victoria Dayton, and Sarah Cronholm week, Prof. Amy Koritz, new faculty advisor for Circle K of Drew, came with 4 club officers. Those who attended the Somerset D-CON told how they gained new insight into the Kiwanis Family experience, and others told of their community service experiences with the Club.

April 20 brought to our club Kiera Akri, Chatham Key Club advisor, along with VP Kristina Kim, Treas. Natalie Ivers, and Pres. Annie Monson/ They told us of their recent Convention (see above), and their plans to build on the ideas and enthusiasm from "D-Con". Advisor

Akri later said that she was impressed by the enthusiastic response of those attending. Later also, Advisor Richard Yar said that he was happy with the various "breakout" and workshop sessions, and would recommend additional sessions for future Conventions.

CHS Officers & Advisor: (L-R) Vice-Pres, Treasurer, Advisor & President.

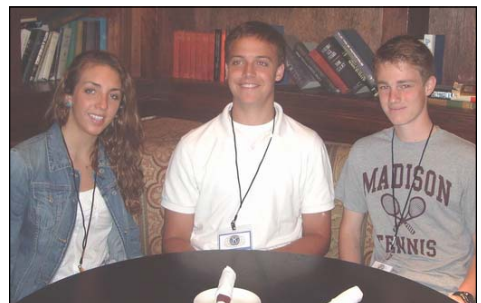

Madison High School Officers– Vice President, President, Secretary, and Treasurer.

At our May 25 breakfast meeting, we hosted a visit by seven officers of the Madison HS Key Club: VP Shanon Sweeney, Pres. Brenna Anderson, Sec'y Emil O'Gorman, Treas, Leo Johanson-Lebron, PR, Caroline Brennan, Events Coord, Jason von der Linde, Points Sec'y Henry Smith. Their advisor, Peggy Cox, explained that the club meets twice each meeting day, and has co-

Presidents: one running the pre-school. and the other the after school meetings. While delegates from our Kiwanis Club have attended their afternoon Key Club meeting, and our members worked with Madison Key Club members at the Cole Park Clean-up, this was the first time the officers and advisor had met at our club. They were warmly welcomed ECLC, Circle K, and CHS Photos, Ron Whalin.

SPONSORED YOUTH: AFTER THEY GRADUATE

Kiwanis Awards to MHS Graduates.

Nancy and Catherine At the June 17 MHS awards ceremony, Nancy Boucher, former President of the Chatham and Madison Kiwanis Clubs, presented the Nancy Boucher Service Award to Catherine Turvey for doing an excellent job as Co-President of the Madison High School Key Club. Nancy also noted her dedicated work as a tutor to students of English as a second language (ESL).

At the same Awards Ceremony, musician Jerry Vezza presented the Jerry Vezza music award to Connor Leszczuk for his work as violinist in the MHS orchestra. He also praised Connor for his growing reputation as an outstanding musician with many north Jersey musical organizations, and for winning area competitions on the fiddle as well as the violin.

Aug. 17 Mtg.-CHS Scholarship Winners

Megan and Sarah

Megan Murray and Sarah Simonson, recipients of our four-year scholarships at the June 22 graduation and award ceremony, came to hear our congratulations and express their gratitude for our support. Megan was Secretary and VP of the Key Club, a teacher and leader in her church, lettered all four year in lacrosse, was a captain for two state championships, and won the CHS Scholar/Athlete award. She will study Biology and Business Management at Yale.

Sarah was Key Club Treasurer, Student Government Treasurer, President of the Spanish Club and Senior Editor of the Year Book Club. She won the Chatham Womans Club World Language Award, and was a mentor to inner-city school children in the SCEEP program. She'll study International Business and Political Economy at NYU.

July 20- Visit by Last Year's Scholarship Winner, Erin Boehmer.

Erin, former Key Club President and Editor of the CHS newspaper, found a welcome environment at the University of Virginia.

Since her graduation we have enjoyed the letters and photos describing her journey of personal discovery. It was challenging but friendly, she said, and she is now planning to major in Civil Engineering. Earlier this year she advised us of her May trip to South Africa as part of a UVA project called Water and Health in Limpopo (WHLP).

Erin and her group traveled to two villages six hours north of Johannesburg, where she taught students about the science of clean water. The group also advised the village Chief about plans to add to the previously constructed water filtration system. Erin and her group learned about the challenges of managing an advanced engineering project in an environment with a low literacy rate and few resources. They also had an introduction to the challenges of local village politics.

News of 2001 Award Winner Chatham High School graduate Lauren Kapsky, 2000-2001 Key Club International President and winner of our four-year scholarship award, was recently appointed by the Board of Kiwanis International to the select committee that advised the Board on their choice for the second World Service Project. This partnership with UNICEF called ELIMINATE was announced at this year's Convention of Kiwanis International in June. . See additional information on P1 of this issue.

KEY CLUB FOLLOW-THROUGH: DIVISION 14 NEWS

August 14- We Sponsor First Divisional Meeting of 2010-2011

At the request of Lt. Gov. Jiayun Fong, we arranged for her introductory gathering, at the Chatham United Methodist Church, where we hold Board meetings. At the meeting were District officers, including Governor Rachel Orbach and other members of her Board, Lt. Governors, officers of clubs in Div 14, and their advisors from the schools, and from their sponsoring Kiwanis Clubs. Jiayun organized ice breakers, Gov. Orbach spoke on the importance of inter-group communication, and other Lt. Governors explained upcoming Divisional, District and International events. The meeting ended with a ribbon-making contest. Within four minutes, 144 were created, which the Key Clubbers will sell to raise funds for the Children's Specialized Hospital. She ended with special thanks the host club, Chatham High, its President, Annie Monson, Co-VP, Gianna Strand, and Editor/Corresponding Secretary Kallan Murray. She also thanked our Chatham/Madison Kiwanis Club, for sponsoring the event. Our local attendees include (back row, L-R) #1, Stephanie Cooperman, CMS Builders Club Advisor; #2, Annie Monson; #4, Jiayun Fong, #5, Gianna Strand, ; #9, Brenna Anderson, Madison HS President; #10, Emily O'Gorman, MHS Secretary; and #11, Gail Frey, ECLC Advisor. Middle row: #1, Neil Cooperman Millburn HS Advisor; #2, Kallan Murray; #5, Gov. Rachel Orbach. Front row: #1, Betty Anne Keat, our sponsored youth chair and CHS Kiwanis advisor.
