Available for rental for any small gathering that would be enhanced by being held in a truly historic home in Downtown Augusta.

The Lamar House was built in 1860 and used as the parsonage for the First Christian Church. The future Supreme Court Justice, Joseph R. Lamar, lived here with his family from 1860 to 1875. Joe was the boyhood friend of the future president, Thomas Woodrow Wilson, who lived next door in the Presbyterian Manse. The site is unique in that there is not another location in America where a future president and supreme court justice lived next to each other as young boys. Both homes are listed on the National Register of Historic Places and are now owned by Historic Augusta, a private, non-profit organization.

Capacity: 36 seated, 75 reception
