Explanation of dating and ordering: We do not have an official or authoritative episode list to serve as a guide for dating individual episodes. We have used a variety of clues to produce a draft ordering of the episodes:

- We have used the copies of the Radio Times in Australian and American libraries to define the series dates, lengths and participants.
- Occasionally we are able to precisely date an individual show based on references to events chronicled elsewhere. Some of these references are Frank's purchase of a villa in Corsica, Frank's 25th wedding anniversary, and currency decimalisation. Sometimes a special venue or a participant substitution also provides a date.
- A fairly well-defined pattern of alternating Denis or Frank going first suggests where series boundaries or missing episodes occur in the recordings available.
