

SALEM PIONEER CEMETERY, SALEM OREGON

Entries copied and downloaded 30 Jul 2008

WEBSITE: Topix.com

URL: <http://www.topix.com/forum/city/bend-or/TB79NS2G7NJ9GJ64S#c16>

BEND, OR Forum: "Ghost Seekers" Looking for Haunted Places in Oregon

Posted by: pinklady

AOL

#16

Oct 27, 2007

Try the Salem Pioneer Cemetery in Salem, Oregon.

I am a member of a Southern California Ghost Research group and was in Oregon visiting my son and daughter-in-law- also former members of the So. Cal. Group. We explored and investigated this cemetery and came up with positive results. Not only was a man seen walking through the tombstones who subsequently disappeared, but we did EVP at one of the two mausoleums there,(I do not recall the name on it), but it is the one with broken glass in the door, in the middle section. We got some responses to questions, thumps and bumps. I ran the recording by our group psychic who was able to discern it was a Confederate soldier in pain. There was also the spirit of a young girl in the cemetery, who came around when the EVP was being done. Very interesting place.

WEBSITE: Topix.com

URL: <http://www.topix.com/forum/city/prineville-or/TB79NS2G7NJ9GJ64S/p2#c39>

PRINEVILLE, OR Forum: "Ghost Seekers" Looking for Haunted Places In Oregon

Posted by: Brock

Sheridan, OR

#39

Tuesday Jul 15

"pinklady wrote:

Try the Salem Pioneer Cemetery in Salem, Oregon.

I am a member of a Southern California Ghost Research group and was in Oregon visiting my son and daughter-in-law- also former members of the So. Cal. Group. We explored and investigated this cemetery and came up with positive results. Not only was a man seen walking through the tombstones who subsequently disappeared, but we did EVP at one of the two mausoleums there,(I do not recall the name on it), but it is the one with broken glass in the door, in the middle section. We got some responses to questions, thumps and bumps. I ran the recording by our group psychic who was able to discern it was a Confederate soldier in pain. There was also the spirit of a young girl in the cemetery, who came around when the EVP was being done. Very interesting place."

I visited this cemetery two nights in a row. The first night it was just me and a friend. When we walked in shortly after while we were walking down one of the paths we started to hear noises so we stopped. It was a scream that sounded close but at the same time distant. it when on for several minutes. then as we were leaving we were looking at a grave and saw a bright light flash behind it. we left shortly after. the next night we had four people we stood there and didn't see much and i was just looking around when i noticed a black figure about six feet tall walk from behind a tree. i tried to inform my friends but couldn't talk. i didn't notice it but i was slowly walking out of the cemetery then when i got out i sat down and started to feel sick. none of them saw it and they thought i was faking it. we went back in and i instantly got chills. then we noticed a tomb that seemed like it would glow then disappear. that is the only things my friend saw that night but that was probably one of the scariest things i have ever seen. i would recommend going their

<end>

This copy from NorthwestHauntings@comcast.net