I/we have read and agree the following information/policies of New World

Signature _____ Date _____

- Program Cost Includes: Airport pick-up and transfers in China, hotel as per tour program itinerary, meals as listed on the itinerary, sightseeing and entrance fees, guides/escorts (Premium tours have escorts with Red Cross First Aid and CPR training), domestic transportation by either train/bus as per itinerary, evening special dinners and entertainment as per itinerary, travel insurance, and gratuities based on tour program (luggage handlers and bellmen, tour bus drivers, guides and Chinese escort). All participants receive t-shirt.
- Not Included in the Program Cost: Round-trip airfare from your home to/from China, Chinese Visa processing fee, passport* application fee, and your personal expenses (such as family gifts, laundry, additional beverages, etc.).

* If you do not have a passport for yourself or your child that will be valid for at least six months after your travel to China, we advise you get one now rather than later. Do not delay! Chinese Consulates will not place visas into such passports.

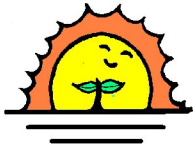

Waiver of Liability: All participants must sign and submit to New World a copy of the Waiver of Liability provided.

Deposit Requirements, Itinerary Changes and Cancellation Policy: Registration is required for all persons participating in this Summer Camp program in China. A nonrefundable deposit of $500.00(include airfare deposit) per participant is required at the time of registration.

Chinese Visas: We ask that you apply for your Chinese visa approx. 2 months prior to your tour but not earlier than 90 days prior to departure. Contact www.mychinadocs.com to arrange your Chinese visa for travel purposes. Be sure that your passports are valid for a period of 6 months after the date of travel when applying for your Chinese visa.

Participant Responsibilities: Medical or other unexpected expenses during the trip are the responsibility of the participant. Use of a Chinese medical facility requires prepayment prior to the physician seeing/treating the patient, even in emergency situations. Travel to China can be difficult for those with disabilities or requiring special medical attention/services. We ask that you consult your physician prior to the tour program and obtain necessary immunization and medications.

Please Note: Travel in China is demanding and rigorous for persons of all ages. Provisions are not made in China for persons with disabilities requiring wheel chairs, lifts, or similar assistance. We must inform potential participants of factors facing them in China including health/safety risks. Should you require assistance in walking, climbing, or carrying of your luggage, we suggest you arrange for a personal assistant or family member to accompany you on the tour or ask New World to make arrangements for someone to assist you while in China. Please do not expect group members or tour leaders to provide daily assistance of this kind. Persons on restricted diets or with food allergies are asked to consider that we at New World are not able to control the contents of foods prepared in China in terms of food additives, oils, specific sauces, and the like. While we will make every attempt to provide a wide range of food options for all participants, we can not be responsible for individuals with uncommon allergies, dietary habits, or dislike of Chinese food. Travel to China will require the consumption of local food products and meals prepared by hotels and restaurants operating independent of New World. Since decisions concerning which foods are or are not safe to consume, it will be each participant's responsibility. Parents with children who are "picky eaters" should introduce a wide variety of Chinese foods to the child prior to the tour program. Should this not prove successful, families can opt to supplement meals with hotel room service off the western menu at their own expense.

Tourist Shops and Commissions: New World Summer Camp in China makes every attempt to not include "tourist" shopping locations. As a result of not stopping at the commission shops from which the driver and guide would gain their salary, we include in the cost of your New World program the gratuity for our bus drivers and local/national guides. Customized and Individual travelers are asked to provide a gratuity should your quotation indicate that tips/gratuities are not included. Qualified Professionals: New World assures you that your program leaders and local guides are qualified and meet licensing requirements in China. From 2002 on, the Chinese government requires all guides entering tourist attractions to be licensed professionals.

The undersigned authorize the home school to disclose to New World Learning Center information about discipline incidents, health problems, psychological conditions, and/or drug and alcohol use that may affect the student's ability to participate successfully and safely at New World Learning Center. The undersigned also agree that, if the student is admitted and enrolls at New World Learning Center, New World Learning Center may share any information about the student's behavior and experience at Camp with the student's parents and home school. Please attest to the factual accuracy of the above information.
