Ceramics Classes

Art Adventures summer camp
Oregon College of Art and Craft

Summer 2007

Making pinch pots was fun and easy for the younger students.

Crazy monsters are fun to make.

For her 2007 summer job, Christine worked as a ceramics instructor for Art Adventures, the children's summer camp at Oregon College of Art and Craft.

Working in a tent in the midst of a beautiful orchard outside the college's ceramics studio, Christine led the students in building and glazing clay animals, pots, self portraits, and other imaginative creations.

Always remember to "score and slip"!

A selection of finished work, on display for the weekly "Art Walk."
