Teaching art at
Sellwood Middle School

SUN School Program
Fall-Winter 2005

Sixth grader Caroline painting her mandala on a vinyl record.

Christine was hired by Portland Impact's SUN Program at Sellwood Middle School to teach an after school class called "Experimental Painting," in which 6th, 7th, and 8th grade students explored acrylic paints on a variety of surfaces including vinyl, wood, and metal. The class was encouraged to experiment and share new "discoveries."

Creating 3-Dimensional people on salvaged 2 x 4's.
