

Name: Jan Drutz

Professional School Affiliation With: Baylor College of Medicine

Professional School Graduated From: University of Louisville School of Medicine

Administrative Title: Clinical director of primary care teaching program

Clinical Title: Professor

Education and Professional Experience:

1964-68

M.D. Degree

University of Louisville

Louisville, Kentucky

1968-1971

Pediatric Residency Training

Baylor College of Medicine

Houston, Texas

1971

Chief Resident

Texas Children's Hospital

Houston, Texas

Professional Experience:

1987 – present

Director, Pediatric Continuity Clinics, Department of Pediatrics, Baylor College of Medicine, Houston, TX

1995 – 2002

Associate Professor, Department of Pediatrics, Baylor College of Medicine, Houston, TX

2002 – present

Professor, Department of Pediatrics, Baylor College of Medicine, Houston, TX

Scholarly Interest :

Program Director, Pediatric Postgraduate Symposium, Baylor College of Medicine (BCM), since 1996.

Interest in preventive health care, especially in regard to physician and paramedical knowledge regarding childhood immunizations and the appropriate timely delivery of immunizations. Chairman – Immunizations/Infectious Diseases Committee, Texas Pediatric Society. Involved in local immunization knowledge initiative (CDC and Prevention funded).

Involved in teaching of various approaches to delivery of “Breaking Difficult News”. Co-investigator for Arthur Vining Davis Grant to fund the development of a similar teaching module applicable to other medical disciplines.

Ambulatory Pediatric Association National Faculty Development Scholar - HRSA funded.

Inducted into BCM Academy of Distinguished Educators based on receipt of Fulbright and Jaworski Faculty Excellence Awards for Educational Leadership and for Teaching and Evaluation. Current Chairman of the Academy of Distinguished Educators