Education and Professional Experience:

University of Minnesota, BSN, MS
University of California, San Francisco, PhD

Faculty positions held at Southwestern Oregon Community College; Texas A&M University, Corpus Christi; and since 2001, at University of California, San Francisco (UCSF) School of Nursing.
A variety of positions in acute and clinical health care systems in administration, education, and care provision augment academic appointments

Scholarly Interest :

As Academic Coordinator I am involved with technology in education, creating and assisting faculty and students to transition between physical and virtual classroom spaces. A current project includes collaborative efforts to develop modules for delivery of patient safety information to professionals working with the patient having a central line.

Currently I am conducting a research project of graduate nursing student and faculty learning styles. Hopefully, sharing of results will stimulate thoughtful integration of tactics supportive of multiple learning styles in both the virtual and physical classrooms.

Personal Background:

Changing and experiencing are two 'drivers' in both professional and personal ventures. From piloting a small single engine plane (past adventure) to boating (current), to traveling, to attempting to learn my son's birth language, to gardening, to hiking and jogging – love life, living, growth, and aging!
