Scholarly Interest :

As Director of the San Francisco General Hospital teaching program I work with volunteer faculty to create new clinical clerkships for senior pharmacy students as well as provide input for ongoing improvement of existing clerkships. I am also involved in the review of courses taught in the first professional year of our pharmacy school and this fall will be co-coordinating our Introduction to Pharmacy Practice course. Other scholarly topics of interests include, course development, course evaluation, interactive and reflective methods of teaching for large groups, and self-directed learning strategies.

Personal Background:

I was born and raised in southern New Jersey. I enjoy cooking, singing, traveling, and falconry.
