

Olympia Poetry Network presents:

The Paul Gillie Memorial “At the Mic” Workshop

Saturday, September 18, 2010
10 a.m. to 3 p.m.
Urban Onion, 116 Legion Way SE
Downtown Olympia

$25 OPN members
$30 non-members
($5 off for registration received by Sept. 4)
Lunch included

Energize your poetry reading!
Strengthen your connection to the audience!

Join us for a day of fun, safe, interactive exercises; group and individual activities; and one-on-one coaching. Focus on the voice as an instrument, body language, interpretation and delivery skills.

Workshop Leaders

Carolyn Gilman is a Thurston County native and graduate of Western Washington University. Carolyn teaches English at Olympia High School where she heads the Poetry Out Loud program.

Ed Kenney has a master's degree in Literature. He has taught drama, English and Advanced Placement courses at Rainier High School, and coaches award-winning students competing in the national Poetry Out Loud contest.

Questions? Contact Terri Cohlene, 753-4709 or tcohlene@hotmail.com

Registration form

Name _____

Address _____ City _____ Zip _____

Phone _____ email _____

Special dietary needs? _____

Amount enclosed (make checks payable to OPN): _____

Send registration form, payment, and a one-page poem you'd like to work on during the workshop (poem optional, but recommended) to: Olympia Poetry Network, P.O. Box 1312, Olympia WA 98507